BUSINESS EXPERIENCE

Evidence Solutions, Inc.

1998 - Present

Forensic Product Failure Consultant, Investigator, Expert Witness

We provide the world's most advanced product failure cause determination consulting and litigation support. Using advanced high-accuracy 3D scanning technologies. We measure objects to millionths of an inch. Then we perform comparisons & analysis to find the true cause of product failure and illustrate it in grand detail for your case.

- 3D Scanning, Analysis & Comparison to Design or Exemplars
- Metallurgical & Mechanical Engineers
- Computer Aided Inspection Practitioners (CAI) for Product Quality & Performance, as well as precision manufacturing processes.
- Also leading the Forensic Expert Witness Association Florida Chapter www.forensic.org

Level 3 Inspection LLC

2008 - Present

CEO & Vice President Client Partnerships

We help our clients make and/or buy better precision parts & products much faster, at lower cost, and with greater confidence! Who wouldn't want these substantial benefits? L3I brings the most accurate and comprehensive 3D measurement technology, combined with the most advanced geometric analysis & comparison systems, applied by the most proficient master practitioner professionals to provide the best dimensional quality inspection services for all manner of investment casting and precision machining clients. We are ISO9001:2008 certified to AS9100C standards, as well as ISO17025 accredited for accuracies of +/- 2 microns. We perform comprehensive analysis and produce AS9102 standard reports to meet demanding industry requirements. We won the 2010 Governor's Business Diversification Award and the 2012 Research & Technology Award for Strategic & Solution Services! In 2014, we were selected as a Florida Company to Watch, among other several other recognition and awards.

Smart Inspection Systems LLC

2010 - Present

CEO & Vice President Business Development

The world's most accurate and comprehensive dimensional quality inspection is now also fast and automated! After years of listening intently to what our services clients wanted, we invented and patented an automated, stand-alone, shop-floor-ready White Light Scanning and Computer Aided Inspection system, called the Smart Inspection Station(TM). This configurable system can be pre-programmed by part number so non-technical operators with minimal training can achieve very advanced dimensional quality inspections quickly through automation.

Eastern Technical Services

2007 - 2008

Business Development Director

Created and managed the dimensional inspection business division for this aftermarket industrial gas turbine parts producer. Pioneered the application of 3D scanning and Computer Aided Inspection for precision manufacturing operations.

Personal Business Advisors, LLC

2005 - 2008

A New Inspection Paradigm

Bonezone

March 31, 2011

The medical device industry has been abuzz with discussion of non-contact inspection methods, particularly White Light Scanning (WLS) and Computer Aided Inspection (CAI). This article will outline the technology that underlies WLS/CAI and explain the technique's ability to:

1. Increase confidence
2. Decrease time to market (TTM)
3. Help make better parts faster
4. Reduce legal exposure through...more

Quality, Speed, Price: Pick Three

Bonezone

December 13, 2011

In the 21st century, manufacturers who take advantage of advanced technological tools can secure the needed quality, while improving both schedule and cost. Manufacturers can thus optimize all three of the seemingly elusive objectives of quality, speed and price, while actually increasing confidence. We'll help you secure these.
